WOMAN IN CAR CRASH DIES

SENATE PASSES WAR VETERANS PENSION BILL

'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

Its funny how some persons, animals or mechanical devices look awkward when they are out of place.

There is a certain musician who is the most awkward creature in the world—until he sits down to the piano.

Then he and the piano are almost like one—each blended into each other.

Ever notice how out of place and absurd a seal is when it is upon the stage?

But when it is in the water it is the most graceful and beautiful animal in the world.

Its four motors whine chirpily and its three fins wiggle crazily.

Then it takes on its cargo of passengers and baggage.

Suddenly the airport siren shrills—a moaning pitch that sends shivers down one's spine.

Then it leaves the ground—as graceful as a bird.

It's another thrill that comes once in a lifetime.

There is a startled "O-o-h" from the crowd—an exclamation that is almost a prayer.

Then — it seems hours — the white chute blossoms out.

There is another "O-o-h" from the crowd, a sigh of relief.

V.F.W. HEARS MEET REPORTS

More than 150 members of the Honor Post V. F. W. and its auxiliary attended a joint meeting in the Memorial hall last night when reports on the recent convention in Santa Cruz were given by the delegates.

According to their reports, the Tenth annual convention, which was attended by approximately 10,000 people and 600 delegates from California and Nevada, was one of the most successful ever held.

Honor post was signally honored at the convocation to the extent of recognition of efforts made by the post, and being given preference to five major committees.

Local members appointed on the committees were: Ralph Wood, Americanization; Ed Seger, resolutions; S. S. Ripley, time and place; George Sanderson, legislation and George Imbach, drills, degrees and bugle corps.

Honor post also came home with three prizes, a drum for the best drum and bugle corps; a silver cup for second prize in the drum corps competition; and a traveling baton for the second best drum corps.

Long Beach's offer included a promise to decorate the city, donate the auditorium, print the programs, furnish the meeting places for the posts and auxiliary, arrange official greetings, assist in obtaining famous speakers, and posted $2500 to use as the department should see fit to make the convention a success.

According to the reports, the department has grown considerably since last year, having taken in 3000 new members.

JOHN THIELER FORMER S. F. TREASURER FIRED UPON

QUINCY, July 1.—UP—The sheriff's office was investigating late today the shooting which endangered the life of John Thielier, former treasurer of San Francisco, at a service station auto camp in Chester, about 30 miles from here.

E. A. Bruce, 36, was held in the county jail here on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Deputies in the sheriff's office said they had not determined who the shots were intended for. They said they were fired into the service station.

The deputies denied reports that Thielier and Bruce had quarreled, saying Bruce could not have been discharged by Thielier, because he was employed in the Red River Lumber company camp number 57.

LUCICH TRIAL MAY END TODAY

SAN RAFAEL, July 1.—UP—Trial of Vincent Lucich on a charge of murdering Melville G. Sturtevant, government prohibition witness, will probably end Wednesday.

The defense rested late today after presenting closing evidence which was mostly repetition of technical.

Final arguments were not started because of adjournment but they should be completed in less than a day.

Police, Gangmen Battle In Street

CHICAGO, July 1.—UP—Gangmen attacked a police car in a furious gun battle in the center of the Loop late tonight in what apparently was an attempt to kill Jack Zuta and three other suspects in the Alfred Lingie murder mystery.

Zuta and his companions were being taken from the state attorney's office by detectives when the attack occurred.

Police returned the fire of the attackers and soon State street, crowded with theatergoers and late night window shoppers resounded with shots.

One of the slugs hit a street car and injured the motorman, probably fatally. Another bullet grazed a night watchman who had come out of a sky scraper for a smoke.

Zuta, known as a brothel keeper and member of the George "Bugs" Moran gang, was arrested with 15 others last night by police in their attempt to locate the slayer of the Chicago Tribune reported three weeks ago.

Oakland Bank Robber Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—UP—Sought for nearly a year on an Alameda county grand jury indictment charging bank robbery, James F. Kelly, 32, former convict was arrested here tonight and turned over to Oakland police.

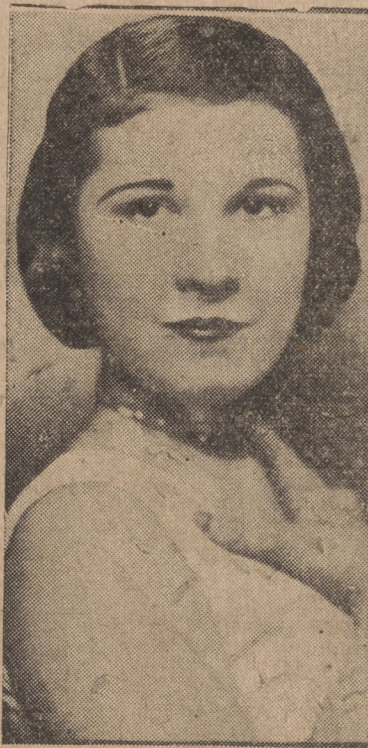

Kelly was indicted in October, 1929 for participating in the robbery of the American Trust company branch at 728 East Fourteenth street, Oakland, on Sept. 30, of that year. Adama DeCosta, 19, is serving in San Quentin now for the same offense.

Through the courtesy of McVittie, the municipal natatorium will be open to the delegates, who will be admitted upon presentation of their badges. Manager A. V. Brady of the Fox-California theater will also admit delegates to the theater Friday night.

Attic Lover Found Guilty

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—UP—A jury of six men and six women tonight found Otto Sanhuber, mild little "attic man" guilty of manslaughter for the killing of Fred Oesterreich, wealthy garment maker in August, 1922.

It took the jury exactly seven hours to reach the decision which, according to defense attorneys probably will result in an attempt to save Sanhuber from prison on the grounds that any charge but murder or treason is outlawed by the statute of limitation after three years.

Sanhuber, it was charged, lived for almost 18 years in the attic of Oesterreich's homes in Milwaukee and Los Angeles because he was infatuated with Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, wife of the man who he was accused of killing.

Southern Cross To Hop Off Today

NEW YORK, July 1.—UP—The grey monoplane Southern Cross, veteran of two heroic ocean crossings, will take off from Roosevelt field here tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock with her commander, Maj. Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions on the recent trans-Atlantic flight.

The first stop will be at Chicago. After stopping over night in Chicago, the big ship will hop again for Salt Lake City and from there to Oakland, Calif., which it is expected to reach Thursday or Friday. When the plane reaches Oakland it will have completed a world's flight.

CITY CHICAGO STILL GOING STRONG

SKY HARBOR, CHICAGO, July 1.—UP—The Hunter boys were still at it tonight, 20 days after they started, zooming an airplane around in figure eights with a 600-hour endurance flight as their goal.

They had carved so many spirals in the air above Sky Harbor airport when they reached their 480th hour at the controls of the second hand monoplane, that they were dizzy. They said so themselves.

John and Kenneth told the nation all about it by means of another "first time ever done" stunt, when a great bombing plane jockeyed above them; and employees of a radio concern lowered a "mike" down to the cramped cabin of their blue and orange Stinson-Detroiter.

The microphone was connected to a nation wide broadcast hook-up. Radio fans heard first the combined roar of the two planes and then the voice of John. He sounded as though he needed a drink of water.

"Hello everybody," he said. "We're still up here and going strong. We don't even know what day it is and I've been away from earth so long I don't know whether I'll be able to walk when I get down. But we are going to hang on as long as possible. I'm now turning this microphone thing over to my brother."

Kenneth sneezed and said: "Well folks, John said hello, so I won't repeat. In justice to everybody, we must give credit to the folks on the ground who have helped us. My mother and sister and brothers, Al and Walt, deserve just as much credit as we do. Well, goodbye, everybody, we will be seeing you when we get back to the old world."

The radio contact was broken, the bomber landed, its occupants received congratulations and John and Kenneth went into their act of tracing figure eights in the clouds.

2 HELD ON RUM CHARGES

MARTINEZ, July 1.—Led by Clyde Laird, county prohibition operatives last night arrested two men, one in Bay Point and the other in Concord, both of whom were charged with possession of intoxicating liquors. Both men pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Glass today.

Ole Brownstead of Concord, arrested for the second time, according to police reports, was fined $500 and Sam Dobbin of Bay Point was fined $400. At Brownstead's home, 24 one gallon jugs of whiskey were found, arresting officers declared, while two and one half gallons were seized at the Dobbin residence.

14 Cent Gasoline Sold In Richmond

Gasoline prices were cut in Richmond yesterday to fourteen cents a gallon at several local service stations.

Heretofore gas had been selling at 15 or 17 cents per gallon.

The cut was first made by service stations along San Pablo avenue. Later the price reduction was made here.

The cuts were made by independent dealers.

Charles Otten To Leave For South

Charles Otten, well known resident of Twenty-third street district, left last night for Santa Cruz where he will join his family who are visiting there.

RANCH HAND ACCUSED BY WIDOW OF SLAIN MAN

REDWOOD CITY, July 1.—UP—A new statement that officers claimed would probably free Ernest L. Hillebrand was made here late today by Mrs. Minnie Roderick, 32, widow of Frank Roderick, wealthy La Honda rancher whose body was found buried in an abandoned well.

Reviled admissions by the widow according to Sheriff J. J. McGrath, Richard O. Bell and Edmund Scott, assistant district attorneys, placed full blame upon Will Woodring, ranch hand, who was named in a warrant filed late Monday.

Force Claim
The three officials said Mrs. Roderick had claimed she was forced by Woodring to help in moving her husband's body to the old well. Previously she had accused Hillebrand a neighbor, with this.

The widow repeated that part of the story in which she denied seeing Roderick killed, claiming that she only heard the shot.

Officials have advanced the theory that Roderick was killed because of his knowledge of cattle rustling.

Declares Innocence
Mrs. Roderick insisted she was commanded by Woodring in everything she did, according to McGrath.

After she had finished her new story, Woodring was brought into the room and told what she had said.

"I'm an innocent man," he declared. "You can shove me across if you want to."

ELKS HEAD VISITS HERE

Fred Melmann of Oakland, state president of the Elks association, paid an official visit to the Richmond Elks lodge last night.

The meeting was the last to be held by the Richmond organization until the latter part of August. Frank Wilson, exalted ruler, presided.

In his speech, Melmann discussed the meeting to be held by the state association October 16 in Del Monte.

Auto Crash Suit Started

MARTINEZ, July 1.—Trial of the $2190 damage suit of Leslie Urquhart, 19 of Richmond, against A. Colombo for injuries alleged to have been sustained in an automobile accident in Richmond Feb. 2, 1930, was begun in the court of Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado today. Thomas Carlson is representing the plaintiff.

Urquhart, a minor, represented by his father, William Urquhart, charges that Colombo was driving his automobile in a careless manner, and was responsible for the collision.

Gasoline Sells At 15 Cents In S. F.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—UP—In an effort to stabilize gasoline prices, both major stations and members of the Retail Service Station Dealers association dropped gasoline from two to four cents per gallon today, to a general price of 15 cents. It is thus hoped to force independents selling at 13 cents to raise their rates to the general level.

Patrolman Logan Back From Trip

E. M. Logan, member of the Richmond police department, has returned from a 6000 mile automobile trip, and will resume his duties with the department.

AIRPORT WILL MOVE TO GIVE HENS PEACE

MARTINEZ, July 1.—When the chickens lay soft shelled eggs and small fliers are stunted, because of the alleged disturbance of their winged brethren, the airplane—something must be done about it.

So the owner of the chickens that laid soft shelled eggs and the fliers which were stunted, H. S. Goodrich, Brentwood poultry man, filed suit in Superior court here against Jack Link, aviator, and the Balfour-Guthrie company, asking damages and a restraining order preventing Link's projected flights from an adjoining tract.

The result was that Link and the Balfour-Guthrie company today agreed to stop flying if the proceedings were dropped.

In his suit Goodrich claimed that his large flocks of chickens were thrown into paroxysms of fear by the low flying ships and laid soft shelled eggs, which had no market value. He also declared the growth of his fliers were stunted by the roar of the motors, which frightened the fowls.

Saloon League Lauds Young

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—UP—The wet and dry issue cropped out in California's coming race for the Republican gubernatorial nomination when the state Anti-Saloon League late today went on record in favor of Governor C. C. Young.

The resolution voted by the league directors pointed out that in giving endorsement to Governor Young the dry leaders wished to commend the record of District Attorney Burton Pitts of Los Angeles.

Approval of Young was made largely because of a "custom of the Anti-Saloon League and of dry forces generally when there was danger of division of the dry vote in an impending election, as against wet candidates, to make an endorsement usually to the incumbent if otherwise acceptable," the resolution said.

Oakland Driver Fined In Court

M. Hatanaka of Oakland, was yesterday fined $10 by Justice of the Peace Arthur Alstrom, on charges of driving without current year license plates and without an operator's card.

PRESIDENTIAL VETO SEEN IN VOTE

WASHINGTON, July 1.—UP—The senate passed the disabled world war veterans pension bill tonight, after increasing its payments heavily and authorizing the pensions for disabilities caused by wartime "vicious habits" both of which are disapproved by President Hoover.

The vote was 55 to 11.

It was the third open break of the day between the two houses, the disagreement created a legislative jam which may keep congress in session for a week to ten days longer. The other two breaks, delaying the second deficiency and District of Columbia appropriation bills, already have brought the district and the Wickersham commission to operation upon a "bankrupt" basis, with the payment of salaries contingent on final passage of the delayed measures.

The pension bill, as it passed the senate, was amended to a point where it is scarcely recognizable as the offshoot of the administration bill passed in house. It carried new provisions, $24 to $60 a month, as compared with $12 to $40 in the house.

Unless the house cuts down the rates, a presidential veto is feared. Hoover has disapproved of the proposal adopted by the senate.

Mooney Pardon Study Ended

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—UP—The state supreme court today completed the report which will be the basis for action of Governor Young in pardoning or refusing to pardon Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings, now serving life sentences for the perpetration of the Preparedness Day bombing in 1916. The justices were to vote on the report tomorrow and to submit it to the governor at Los Angeles Thursday. Its contents will not be made public until after the governor announces his action.

BARREL HOUSE NINE BEATS REFINERY

Spike's sunburned!

Mr. Elder, the big "man in the iron mask" for the Standard Oil baseball league, yesterday afternoon learned that a ten pound stomach protector hanging on peeling week-end shoulders is very unpleasant. In fact, the sensation is so horrible that Mr. Elder was forced to evacuate his position behind the plate for the more pleasurable position on the mound.

By the way, Spike informed the occupants of the scorers' box that during the period of his torture behind the plate last night, that he broke at least 16 blisters.

Poor Spike!

Barrel House Wins

Oh well, the Barrel House and Mechanics had a nice little tussle despite their umpire's misfortune. Aided by three home runs, the Barrel House conquered the Mechanics by a score of 9 to 2.

The boys from the Barrel House had a big time on the Standard Oil diamond yesterday afternoon. Buzz Wetzler had the best luck of the entire day, whanging the agate over the left field fence twice during the game. Cola also added a four bagger to the imposing list of home runs scored by the Barrel House this season. Matteri also did well with a triple, while Soby collected an easy two bagger.

The Barrel House started out in great style in the very first inning when they collected three runs. The Mechanics earned their first score in the second when they scored one runner. One more run was earned by the Barrel House outfit in the last of the second. The Mechanics trailed them with two more scores in the first of the third but the Barrel House came back with a great hitting drive in the last of the same inning to score four more runs. Luck wasn't with the Mechanics during the remainder of the contest, while the victors brought their score up to nine runs in the fourth period.

Wetzler Pitches

Wetzler pitched the whole game, allowing six hits, three walks, and striking out three. Orr stayed on the mound until the middle of the second. He allowed four hits, one walk, and fanned no Barrel House sluggers. Kersten then took the mound and allowed six hits, four walks, and whiffed five hitters.

CORBETT SURE OF DEFEATING THOMPSON

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—It may be that "Young" Corbett, foremost contender for the welter-weight championship of the world has changed slightly. Or, maybe, he is just trying to frighten out "Young" Jack Thompson, negro, who holds the 147 pound title.

Anyway, Corbett and his managers predict he will come closer to stopping Thompson in their ten round non-championship fight at Ewing Field on the fourth of July than the negro has ever been since becoming a fistie luminary.

"I know what he has," remarked Corbett the other day, "and I'm sure I can put him down. In our last fight, which was two years ago, I gave him a boxing lesson. This time, I am going to give him a real beating."

Doesn't sound like Corbett, but it is. The usually quiet Fresno must have nursed that little talk for a long time. For never before has he made such a boastful statement before an important battle.

Corbett's training the past few days has brought forth a flock of favorable expressions. He has never appeared in better form, according to persons who have followed him in all his fights in this section.

Thompson is in perfect form. The negro has had a week's hard training in the bay area, and says he is right.

Matchmaker Frank Schuler has completed the preliminary card for the show. Young Johnny Burns, Oakland and Don Kennedy, Fresno, light heavyweights, will box the six round semi-main event, which will go on after the main event.

Other bouts on the program are Tom Toner, Philadelphia, vs. Ernie Stout, Fresno, heavyweights, six rounds; Vernon Jackson, Los Angeles, vs. Angel de la Cruz, San Francisco, featherweights, six rounds; Able Israel, Seattle, vs. Elwin Lee, Sacramento, flyweights, four rounds; Al Manfredo, Fresno, vs. Johnny Peters, San Francisco, welterweights, four rounds.

The first bout will start at 1 o'clock, with the main event entering the ring not later than 2:15 o'clock. The main event will give persons planning to leave the city plenty of time to get away after the bout.

Boat Club In Racing Plans

Preparations for boat races to be held on July 20 were made last night at a meeting of the Outboard Motorboat club of Richmond.

More than 60 drivers will enter their crafts in the races, which will be held at the inner harbor.

Gordon Perault was named official referee for the event. His appointment will be sanctioned by the American Power Boat association. Arrangements for feeding the drivers and for the building of guard rails at the wharf were discussed.

Further plans will be discussed at another meeting to be held in the future.

Norah McNeill Returns From Library Meet

Miss Norah McNeill, Richmond librarian, has returned from Los Angeles where she attended sessions of the American Library association and also of the California Library association.

More than 2100 librarians from all over the country attended the librarians' convention. Libraries in the vicinity of Los Angeles were visited, and much entertainment was provided for the benefit of the visiting librarians.

The newly elected president of the national library association is Adam Strohm, librarian of the Detroit public library. He succeeds Andrew Keough of Yale university. Mary Barnaby of Oakland, of the Alameda county library was elected president of the state organization, with William Kerr of Pomona college named vice-president.

Mrs. M. L. Hodges, West Side librarian, who also attended the convention, remained for a short visit with friends in the southern city. Miss McNeill made the trip both ways by boat.

Oaks Defeated By Hollywood Nine, 6 To 5

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—UP—An eight run rally in the ninth inning placed the Sacramento Senators in the running for leadership of the Pacific Coast league today.

The Senators beat the San Francisco Missions twice, 5 to 2 and 12 to 9, being the only team of the first division to gain a victory. As a result they were only a game and a half behind Los Angeles.

In the first game the Senators made five runs in the last three innings and in the second game their sensational ninth inning rally brought another win.

Seattle beat the San Francisco Seals, 4 to 3, in a 12 inning game. The Seals had caused a deadlock with one run in the first of the ninth inning.

Breaking a tie with one run in the seventh inning, Hollywood beat Oakland, 6 to 5.

Another brilliant finish was made by Portland's Beavers, who scored twice in the last of the ninth to beat the Angels, 3 to 2.

The burning of a house at Southampton caused the destruction of six hundred and forty-three poems submitted in a prize contest. It is feared, however, that all the poems kept carbon copies.

New Record For 100 Metre Dash

HASTINGS PARK, Vancouver, B. C., July 1.—UP—Eddie Tolan, the University of Michigan's "Midnight Express," set a new world's record in the invitational 100 metres dash at the International athletic meet here today with a time of 10 1-10 seconds.

Tolan was followed across the tape by George Simpson, Ohio's blizzard for speed honors, who was second and Percy Williams, V. A. C. A. third.

Simpson came back in the 220 yard run to prove that that is his race by beating out Tolan to win this event in 20 3-5 seconds, tying the world's record of which he is co-holder. R. Sweet was third in the 220-yard run.

26 Killed In 2 Railway Crashes

MOSCOW, July 1.—UP—Two railway accidents in Soviet Russia during the week-end cost 26 lives and more than a score were injured, delayed advices received here last night said. Twenty-two persons were killed and 28 injured seriously when a train was derailed Sunday near Cherepovsk station. Four others were killed and several injured when another train jumped the track at Pesochaya station, near Oria, Friday.

NATIVE SONS IN VICTORY OVER FIREMEN

Camped down on second base, refusing to leave it in spite of the fact the umpire called him out, Grady, Fireman baseball player, decided to stick it out if it took all summer.

But Tony Cabral, the umpire, soon settled the problem of removing Grady from second base by calling off the game and awarding the victory to the Native Sons.

The Sons were leading the Firemen by a score of 4 to 2 in the seventh inning at the High school diamond.

In that inning the Firemen scored one run. Grady got a hit and went to first. Kamb, the next man up, hit one to Cornell, who threw him out at first. Grey handling the catch.

Viano, then on the mound for the Sons, hurled the ball to Hathaway, the next man at bat. Hathaway took his cut, but missed.

Finch, Son's catcher, saw his duty and did it. He lammed the ball down to second and Grady was caught (so it appeared) off second base.

But Grady refused to be put out. He insisted by all means he was

Odd Fellows, Elks Nine To Meet July 13

At least two master strategists of local diamonds—Harry Skow and George Shaw—will match their baseball brains for the first time this year.

The long awaited battle between Skow's league-leading Odd Fellows and Shaw's Elks will be fought July 13 on the First street diamond at 2:30 o'clock.

The Elks and Odd Fellows have had a grand season on the baseball fields of Richmond this year, and the coming clash is generally regarded as the game of the year. The Odd Fellows are leading the Richmond City Twilight league, while the Elks have been having a great time in pre-league competition.

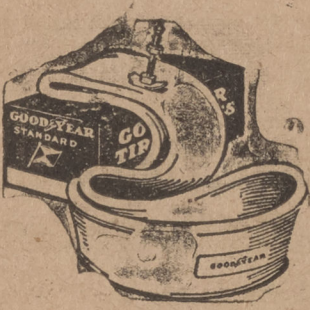

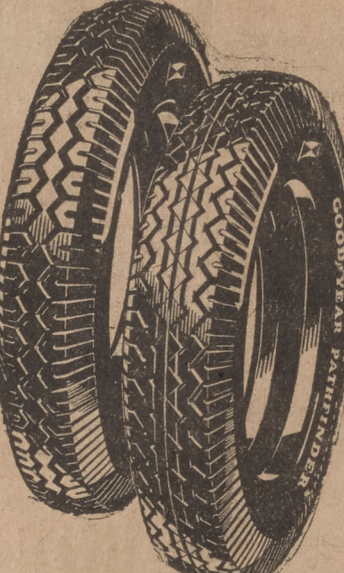

Both teams are known as hard hitting aggregations, and plenty of heavy slugging may be expected when the rival lodgemen get together on the First street lot.

For fifteen minutes words were exchanged, hand were waved through the air and the battle went on far, far into the night.

Finally Cabral got "fed up" on the argument, called the game and awarded the victory to the Native Sons.

So that was that.

FIVE SUSPECTS IN LINGLE DEATH ARRESTED IN L.A.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—UP—When Frank Foster and four fellow gangsters were captured in a luxurious Los Angeles apartment they carried letters which are an important link in the solution of the murder of Alfred J. Lingle, Chicago Tribune reporter, authorities said tonight.

"Manwhile Foster, who boasted 'I'll be on the street on a writ in an hour' when he was arrested last night, was held in jail, as were his henchmen, on a charge of suspicion of the Lingle killing.

Los Angeles and Chicago officers who cooperated in the raid after days of secret planning refused to reveal the exact nature of the clues.

Five Held

Others charged with suspicion of Lingle's murder are Marvin Apple, alias Frank Foreman, Frankie Fisher and George Davis, all said to be Chicago gangsters, and Herman Walters, said to be a former Chicago racketeer.

The capture of the band resulted from one of the most carefully executed plans in the history of the Los Angeles police department.

Trap Set

They "staked out" an apartment in one of the city's most exclusive residential districts and waited until the trap appeared filled with a sizeable catch.

Last night police cars with sirens open sped to the apartment house. The trap was sprung. The Chicagoans made no resistance when they found the place "filled with policemen," as Foster said with a sneer when he was booked at the jail today.

Police and the district attorney's detectives held to their secrecy last night. It was known that a woman, taken in the raid, was being questioned at an outlying hotel but the officials refused to confirm rumors that the turmoil had to do with the Lingle case.

Held In Jail

It became known today that Foster and his companions were placed in a suburban jail for the night, while police made efforts to capture other members of the band who were missed in the big drive.

Blayner-Matthews, chief investigator for District Attorney Byron Fitts of Los Angeles, said he was convinced that some of Foster's friends scattered when news of their leader's arrest spread along an underworld grapevine.

The woman held was Mrs. Frank Bowman, believed to be Foster's wife. She was found in Foster's apartment with him and Davis, said to be the leader's personal bodyguard. No charge was placed against her but she was held for questioning.

SOLUTION OF CASE NEAR

CHICAGO, July 1.—UP—Solution of the famed Lingle murder mystery appeared imminent tonight, said police, more than three weeks after the veteran Chicago Tribune reporter was assassinated.

After sifting of the evidence in the death of Alfred Lingle had involved city officials, gambling resort owners and prominent gangsters in one war or another, detectives trailed one of the principal suspects to Los Angeles.

He was Frank Foster, gangster named by authorities as the owner of the gun with which Lingle was shot to death. They arrested him, his wife and four other Chicago hoodlums today. Foster fled Chi-

Federals Will Back Almada In Mexico Revolt

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—UP—The federal government gave firm indication today that it intended to stand behind Francisco R. Almada as governor of Chihuahua state, despite efforts of political opponents to prove the legality of their move to oust him.

The United Press was informed by an official in the department of interior, that the government refuses to reopen the case of the Chihuahua elections or to reconsider the federal recognition given Governor Almada.

The statement followed the arrival in the last 24 hours of participants in the unsuccessful effort to eliminate Almada at Chihuahua. They came to the capital with the express intention of pleading before the interior department the legality of the Chihuahua expulsion and the election of Manuel Estrada as provisional governor.

The argument hinges on the legal right to seats in the Chihuahua state legislature of the deputies Virgilio Casale and Valente Chacon. The interior department has indicated they are not entitled to seats, thereby eliminating the majority in the legislature by which Almada was temporarily deposed.

Meanwhile, Estrada was reported also to be on his way to Mexico City, with his arrival momentarily expected.

The determination of Estrada and Manuel Prieto, also involved in the Chihuahua coup, to contest the legality of the interior department's decision in favor of Governor Almada, has created a political situation considered almost as grave as last week's events at Chihuahua.

Persons in close touch with the government, however, said the authorities had the situation well controlled.

ALL QUIET TO CLOSE TODAY AT FOX

The glory of war and patriotism has been extolled. There have been scenes and scenes of soldiers marching to battle and to death. In this picture, however, the truth of modern warfare is mercilessly unfolded. Though it approaches its story from the German viewpoint, it soars above nationality and proves the futility and hopelessness of battle. The groups of German boys in the picture might be any group of boys—American, Russian or French. Their attitude is the same—their ignorance is pitiable.

Critics and public who have viewed this production declare it to be the most powerful tract for peace in existence. H. L. Mencken of the American Mercury, said of it: "It is by no means a mere tract against war; it is rather a gorgeous and epochal paean of the indomitable spirit of youth—an overwhelmingly eloquent celebration of the high courage and resolution that make war possible." The German boy of this story wonders what it is all about, but he is not less heroic for wondering. There is in him and his comrades a fortitude that shows in the end an almost majestic character; they cease to be youngsters wallowing in the mud and become personages out of a tragedy in the grand manner.

FRENCH ARMY HOME FROM RHINE

PARIS, July 1. —UP.—Cheering crowds greeted Gen. Adolph Guillaumat, French commander in chief of the Rhineland army of occupation, and Paul Tirard, the French high commissioner in the Rhine, upon their arrival here today.

Their return followed the official ending of the French occupation of the Rhineland zones at midnight last night. They reported the end of the occupation to Foreign Minister Aristide Briand and War Minister, Andre Maginot.

The first day of the Rhineland's liberation, however, found a dubious feeling of uneasiness permeating Paris. There was noticeable a presentiment that the Germans were not prepared to cooperate with the French in the thorough-going era of friendship. The proclamation, for example, issued by President Hindenburg at Berlin linking a liberated Saar Basin with the Rhineland evacuation, was featured in the Paris press as "unpolitical."

French opinion generally appeared unfavorably impressed by the Hindenburg proclamation because, it was pointed out, it dwelt chiefly on the privations suffered by the army of occupation—but it failed to rally the German people to the idea of rapprochement.

On the other hand, the memorandum from Aristide Briand, the French foreign minister, to Paul Tirard, high commissioner in the Rhineland, emphatically stated France would "remain faithful to the idea of creating with its former enemies an atmosphere of practical co-operation and normal understanding indispensable to the maintenance of peace."

THE CUCKOOS TO BE SHOWN AT THE FOX

Work in front of a camera or behind the footlights is not the most difficult performed by comedians.

Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, featured comedians in RKO's production of "The Cuckoos" to open tomorrow at the Fox California theater, are responsible for this statement.

The success of funmakers depends more on how well they work up their gags and wisecracks, they say. It is easy to walk out in front of an audience or camera and "act funny" they contend. The brain work beforehand is what counts.

Wheeler and Woolsey go on the theory that two heads are better than one. Although they had known each other for some time they had never considered combining as a comedy team until Ziegfeld brought them together in his stage show, "Rio Rita."

A producer usually permits the comedians to work their own lines. Wheeler and Woolsey worked together so well that they decided to stay together as a team.

Following their successful three year run on Broadway they wrote their own act for a vaudeville tour. Their route took them to Los Angeles and they were then signed by Radio Pictures to duplicate their "Rio Rita" roles on the screen.

Although the story of the screen version of "Rio Rita" followed the action of the original stage show, Wheeler and Woolsey found most of the comedy interludes unprovided for in the working screen script. Director Luther Reed, feeling that the team's lines in the original show had become a trifle out-dated, notified Wheeler and Woolsey that they were to have practically a free hand in supplying the comedy sequences in "Rio Rita" on the screen. Enthusiastic reception by audiences all over the country proved they had done their work most effectively.

The same chance came again in "The Cuckoos," the deliriously mad screen musical now showing here. Adapted from Clark and McCulloch's Broadway hit "The Ramblers," the vehicle was based principally on the two comedy leads Wheeler and Woolsey have worked up a screamingly funny series of gag situations and comedy lines.

According to Dorothy Dix, "no knowledge we ever acquire is so important as a knowledge of what to say and how to say it." Except, perhaps, a knowledge of what not to say and when not to say it.—Weston (Ore.) Leader.

DISRAELI
BY EVE BERNSTEIN
Copyright 1929 Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
This novel is based on the Warner Bros. & Vitaphone picture starring George Arliss.

SYNOPSIS
Disraeli, British Prime Minister, has been refused the aid of Probert, head of the Bank of England, in financing the purchase of the Suez Canal. Knowing that Russia is trying to thwart the deal through the activity of Mrs. Travers and other spies, Disraeli disregards Probert's refusal and arranges to obtain the money from Hugh Myers, wealthy Jewish banker.

Meanwhile he dispatches Lord Deorford, fiancé of Lady Clarissa, to Egypt with a bank check drawn on Myers' bank. Just as he hears from Deorford that negotiations have been completed, Myers arrives with the crushing information that he is in bankruptcy.

FIFTH INSTALMENT
"I MEAN I am bankrupt," he said for the third time. "Listen to me. First the ship—with the bullion—from Argentina—went down." "Wrecked?" "Scuttled! Purposely and criminally sunk—all the crew saved. A conspiracy. It will take weeks—months—to get the insurance. In addition to that, rumors affecting my credit have been spread, and now, this wreck, I am being pressed—some enormous power!" "What power?" "I don't know. They have acted through an agent, Mr. Lewin. I have come to you first because we

Disraeli Visions the Effect of Myers Bankruptcy

He ran quickly to the closet, took out a dressing gown, and put it on in place of his coat. "Dizzy!" Lady Beaconsfield remonstrated, "what is this play acting?" "I am ill—very ill," he explained, sitting down in an easy chair. "The papers say I am ill, and she shall see the sickest man she ever saw in her life!" Mrs. Travers, followed by Clarissa, whom she met in the garden, greeted Lady Beaconsfield and then Disraeli. She had heard he was ill, but she did not know he was so ill. Perhaps she had better go. "I'm very weak," Disraeli told her in a low, pitiful voice, "but very glad to see you. So bright! So young! Isn't it good of her, Mary? Sit down where I can see you. There!" "I saw the Duchess, your mother, yesterday," Mrs. Travers told Clarissa. "She is very anxious about Lord Deorford. He is abroad, isn't he? Egypt or somewhere?" "Yes, he is in Egypt," Disraeli replied. "We have just heard from him. Mary, isn't it time for my beef tea?" Mrs. Travers could not suppress her curiosity. "You say you heard from him?" "Yes—a telegram. Read it—there on the table." She got up quickly and went to the table. "The celery is ripe to cut," she knew. "You knew he's engaged in a very interesting agricultural experiment," Disraeli explained, at the same time watching her through the mirror. He saw how she had noticed the code lying next to the telegram, and quickly slipped it in her glove. It was obvious that from that moment Mrs. Travers wanted to be alone—to read the code. She went to the window and admired the peacocks, but Disraeli, sensing what she intended to do, was one step ahead of her. When she expressed a desire to see them, he quickly whispered to Clarissa that she must not leave her alone, and Clarissa obligingly accompanied her. Then he sent Lady Beaconsfield for Probert, instructing her to take Mrs. Travers's carriage which was waiting outside.

Disraeli Visions the Effect of Myers Bankruptcy

When she returned with Clarissa at her side, she again declared it was urgent that she leave, but Disraeli would not let her go. Lady Beaconsfield and Clarissa had to go to meet the specialist, and she must stay with him. "My cab is waiting," she pleaded. "I have sent it away," he announced. "Sit down here," he went on, taking her hand. "This dainty hand—supple fingers—so long and thin, so exquisitely shaped!" "Oh, Mr. Disraeli," she remonstrated comely. "So quick to grasp things—scraps of paper—in such a hurry to get away from the poor sick man to read—the code," he snapped, forcing it out of her glove with a dextrous movement. "What of it?" she challenged, unable to dissimulate. "That's better. That's how I remember you. So curious—I remember you, but couldn't place you. I connected you with something blue and white, snow and water. Mont Blanc and Lake of Geneva. Geneva in the sixties. Russian refugees and their English sympathizers. A man called Lumley and his ravishing—shall I say—wife? That delightful couple, so good to the unhappy exiles. But people are cruel. They said kind Mr. Lumley and his lovely—narrative—were agents, decoys in Russian pay, engaged in working out secrets of the refugees, in tempting them back to Russia, to Siberia, to death." SENATE PASSES VET PENSION BILL authorizing payment to veterans who contracted social diseases in the service. In the other bills, and he has also indicated in no uncertain terms that a bill carrying as large an expenditure as this one, will not meet with his approval.

Senator LaFollette, Repn., Wis., leading today's debate for the $20 to $60 amendment of two Democrats, Walsh of Massachusetts and Canally of Texas, denounced the administration as "niggardly" for expecting disabled veterans to live on the smaller pensions. It was adopted 37 to 26. The no's were all republicans, but 28 democrats joined with nine republicans to vote it in.

The senate passed the bill once without a record vote, but on the request of Senator Harris, Dm., Ga., a roll call was taken, the lineup being 55 to 11; with opponents all Republicans.

May Override Veto

The vote indicated without a doubt that the senate would override the president's veto, if one is forthcoming. An attempt to compromise and accept the measure is expected, however, as a veto, if upheld, would frustrate republican promises for some sort of veteran aid legislation.

The senate appropriations committee took aggressive action in its fight against the house on the District appropriations bill. The resolution passed by the house yesterday, continuing last year's expenses for current expenses, was amended to include the whole appropriation bill as passed by the senate.

This amounts to an ultimatum that there will be no adjournment of congress until and unless the house grants a compromise.

Meantime, the District government and its thousands of employees started the new fiscal year with not a cent of money legally available.

The second deficiency bill, carrying this appropriation, is expected to be brought up in the house tomorrow. Further conferences with the senate will be necessary if the house amendment is adopted, however, and Senator Glass, Dem., Va., arch-enemy of the commission, may seek to block the increased appropriation in the senate. In this case, the amendment would have to be left out or the bill would fail.

At any rate, no one can say prohibition isn't a greater success than the liquor that is being sold under it.

Bond Issue For Golden Gate Bridge Seen

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—UP—Possibility that a bond issue for the Golden Gate bridge may be on the November ballot appeared likely today, as the special board of army engineers concluded its hearing.

The board announced that it will submit its report and recommendation to the War Department in two weeks and that a ruling from Washington may be expected about September 1.

If the Secretary of War approves the plans for the bridge, the issue may reach the voters by November.

New Testimony

Bridge experts, engineers, lawyers and marine experts offered testimony today extolling the projected bridge and denying that it would prove a menace to navigation.

The army board had intimated that if there was no objection from marine interests they did not anticipate opposition to the bridge from Washington.

First to testify was Sydney W. Taylor Jr., engineer for the bridge and highway district. His testimony based on a traffic survey of the bay region counties, stated that in its first year of operation, 1935, the bridge would gross in excess of $2,000,000, based on an average toll per automobile of 84 and one third cents.

Witnesses Called

Shipping interests will not oppose the bridge if it can be shown that it will provide ample clearance for vessels, Maurice Harrison, president of the San Francisco Bar association, told the board.

A clearance of 250 feet above high water and 225 feet at the piers was advocated, he said.

Other witnesses testified concerning the relation of the bridge to shipping.

Local Party Escapes Death In Car Crash

Perry Lasater, local mail carrier; his son, Junior, 12 and Jane Abbey, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Abbey of Richmond, have returned to Richmond with a spectacular tale of a miraculous escape from death last week end.

The three were enroute to Yosemite to meet Mrs. Lasater and her sister, Mrs. Edward Ellers of Coal-fing, when a tire blew out on Lasater's machine, causing the car to plunge over a 50 foot grade 15 miles beyond Mariposa.

A projecting rock on the edge of the Merced river halted the car, on the brink of the water. Jane Abbey was thrown into the river, and when Junior Lasater extricated himself from the machine, he also was in the water.

Lasater, who had been rendered unconscious by a blow on the head, recovered consciousness, and hauled the two children from the river. Six stitches were later taken in Lasater's head.

A passing bus took the trio to Mariposa where they were treated for their injuries. The car was completely wrecked.

Earl Mastro Beats Taylor

DETROIT, July 1.—UP—Maintaining a furious two fisted attack, Earl Mastro, slugging Chicago featherweight, decisively defeated Bud Taylor, Terra Haute Ind. veteran in a ten round bout here tonight.

The young Chicago Italian won seven rounds, two rounds went to Taylor and one was even.

British Defeat Tunnel Plan

LONDON, July 1.—UP—The British House of Commons rejected the proposal of a tunnel beneath the English channel by a vote of 179 to 172 last night. It was objected to chiefly on the grounds of national defense.

Prime Minister MacDonald, speaking against the measure argued that if England should find herself allied with France in another war the tunnel would prove of no material assistance. It would not have been helpful in the last war, he said.

P. G. E. Will Get Utility Company

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—UP—The State Railroad Commission today authorized the Pacific Gas and Electric company to acquire the properties of the Snow Mountain Water and Power company which serves Sonoma, Napa and Mendocino counties with water and power at wholesale.

The larger utility already controls the common stock of the Snow Mountain company.

The deal was consummated with the cash payment of $611,666 plus assumption of outstanding debt

Billie Dove Gets Divorce From Husband

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—UP—Billie Dove, motion picture beauty was granted a divorce here today after a judge listened to her story of cruelty at the hands of her director-husband, Irvin Willat.

Willat did not contest the action and was not in court when he was described as a man without temper control and prone to strike his wife when he became angry.

Dressed in a striking black long-skirted ensemble set off by white gloves and a pearl necklace, Miss Dove told her story of married discord with no sign of emotion.

"He had no temper control and often struck me with his fists," she said. "Once, three years ago, he hit me before a number of guests."

Miss Dove said that she left Willat after each of his outbursts but that he persuaded her to return by declaring he was sorry and "would never act that way again."

The promises, she said, always were broken.

In addition to physical cruelty, Willat subjected her to mental discomfort, the star said.

"He resented my motion picture work and even objected to me smoking a few cigarettes," she declared.

Willat and Miss Dove were married in 1922 when she left the Ziegfeld Follies for the screen. They have no children and a property settlement was made out of court.

The deal was consummated with the cash payment of $611,666 plus assumption of outstanding debt

Enforcement Of Dry Law Changed

WASHINGTON, July 1.—UP—Ending a decade of prohibition enforcement, the Treasury today transferred 2700 of its agents, special investigators and administrators to the Justice department which now is charged with enforcing the laws under the Eighteenth amendment.

The transfer, carrying out a pledge made by President Hoover during his campaign, paves the way for what is generally expected to be the supreme effort to make the United States a thoroughly dry nation. It was authorized by the Williamson bill which congress passed recently.

Meanwhile, a last minute drive to pass more of the legislation recommended by the Hoover-Wickensham law enforcement commission for improving prohibition enforcement was launched in the senate today.
